

TRICK-OR-TREAT FOR UNICEF

Make Halloween Mean More!

WELCOME!

Since children first collected coins on Halloween night – to help others after World War II – Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF has been a symbol of coming together to make a difference for kids. This year, the little orange box is back! A point of nostalgia for many adults, the box is a great way for CKI and K-Kids to work with UNICEF and help kids in Côte d'Ivoire through the Brick x Brick project. Joining in the campaign this October means being part of the longest running youth engagement campaign in the United States, one that's raised nearly $200 million for lifesaving programs around the world.

WHERE THE FUNDS GO

Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF donations raised by Circle K International and K-Kids will go to Brick x Brick, Circle K's project to create a woman-led recycling market that converts plastic waste into safe and durable bricks that will be used to build classrooms. The project is supported by UNICEF as part of its efforts to build a sustainable future through education and empowerment in Côte d'Ivoire.

What will you help UNICEF achieve?

- Contribute to a cleaner planet by upcycling plastic waste into usable bricks
- Alleviate poverty for families by providing opportunities for women and mothers
- Provide safe spaces for children to learn and play once classrooms are built with recycled bricks
